Financial Instructions No 1 of 2013

Losses, Arrears of Revenue, Write-Off and Advances

As you are aware, Financial Instructions No 1 of 2010- Losses, Arrears of Revenue, Write-Off and Advances took effect in January 2010.

2 The Financial Instructions required Accounting Officers, inter-alia, to-
   (a) approve write-offs of arrears of revenue after taking into consideration the comments of Director Internal Control and Director of Audit;
   (b) submit to the Director of Audit the Accounts Form 258 (Write off Irrecoverable Arrears of Revenue) and 258 A (Return of Arrears of Revenue)-
      (i) before 31 July, in respect of the six months ending 30 June; and
      (ii) before 31 January, in respect of the six months ending 31 December.

3 Following discussions with the Director of Audit (DoA), he pointed out that in practice external auditors carry out post audit and are not involved in operational activities. Therefore, the Financial Management Review Committee (FMRC) has amended the Financial Instructions so as to enable Accounting Officers to write off arrears of revenue without seeking DoA prior comment.

4 Please find enclosed Financial Instructions- Losses, Arrears of Revenue, Write-Off and Advances for compliance. Note that these instructions will supersede the Financial Instructions No 1 of 2010.

A. Mansoor
Financial Secretary
Financial Instructions No 1 of 2013
Losses, Arrears of Revenue, Write-Off and Advances

1. In these Financial Instructions, 'public officer' means the holder of any public office and includes a person appointed to act in any public office.

Losses and Shortages of Public Money

2. Every public officer is duty bound to report to his superior officer without delay for transmission to the Accounting Officer any loss, shortage, irregularity, fraud, theft or burglary involving the funds or property of Government or for which Government is responsible. The hiding or the failure to report such cases will result in disciplinary action against the officers responsible.

3. The Accounting Officer should, in cases of theft, burglary or fraud, or in cases where the loss, shortage or irregularity has caused prejudice to Government, immediately refer the matter to Police and at the same time set up a Departmental Board of Enquiry to situate responsibilities and determine causes thereof.

4. Where, at any time before the submission of a Police report or Departmental Board of Enquiry report, a responsible officer considers that the facts reported to him clearly indicate that a public officer should be subject to disciplinary proceedings under the Public Service Commission Regulations, he shall take appropriate action accordingly.

5. Where in the light of facts reported to him, a responsible officer considers that a public officer should, in the interest of the public service, instantly cease to exercise the powers and functions of his office, he should proceed with the interdiction of the officer in accordance with regulation 31(1) of the Public Service Commission Regulations.

6. Notwithstanding any action which may have been taken in accordance with paragraphs 2 to 4 above, the procedures set out hereunder should be carried out in all cases.

7. On discovering any loss, fraud, theft or irregularity, the Accounting Officer, should-

(a) arrange for the amount of any deficiency to be debited to Advance Account Personal in the name of the officer having immediate control or custody of money

including an officer keeping the keys of a safe, locker or electronic cash register;

(b) report the facts of the case in writing to the Financial Secretary with copy to the Accountant-General, confirming that the Advance Account Personal has been opened and, giving its title and the amount debited thereto;

7A The Accounting Officer should subsequently –

(a) send interim reports, including police reports, to the parties mentioned at 7 (b) above;

(b) pay in any money recovered to the credit of the Advance Account Personal; and

(c) submit his final report to the parties mentioned at 7(b) above, including any action taken or recommended to be taken against the officer in accordance with the Public Service Commission Regulations, within the shortest possible delay. It is not permissible to retain, from the salary or retiring benefits of any defaulting officer, an amount equivalent to the total or part value of the loss sustained, if a final decision in the case has not been reached.

7B Where the Accounting Officer envisages to recommend any disciplinary action against a public officer, he should also submit a copy of the final report mentioned at 7A(c) above to the Permanent Secretary of the Ministry for Civil Service Affairs and Administrative Reforms and the Secretary, Public Service Commission.

8. Where a public officer is convicted in any court following criminal proceedings instituted against him, Accounting Officers should immediately proceed with the recovery by means of a civil action from the convicted person and the result of such proceedings should be communicated to the Financial Secretary and copied to the Accountant-General.

9. Where it is established that the amount lost or any part thereof is irrecoverable, the Advance Account Personal may be cleared (credited) by the Accounting Officer in respect of the irrecoverable amount, subject to the appropriate item of charge being authorised by MOF.
10. Information contained in certain anonymous letters can be helpful in detecting latent irregularities. Accounting Officers are advised to investigate allegations which may be of substance and communicate to MOF under confidential cover the result of such investigation.

11. The occurrence of loss, shortage, irregularity, fraud, theft or burglary in a Department may be the result of weaknesses in systems and procedures in that Department. The Accounting Officer, through his Finance Section and Internal Control Unit, should review the procedures in order to identify weaknesses and take necessary corrective action, and inform MOF accordingly.

Losses, Arrears of Revenue, Write-Off and Advances

12. Every Accounting Officer shall, in respect of his Department, be responsible to write off irrecoverable arrears of revenue and to clear Advance Accounts in respect of—

   (a) loss of public money;

   (b) abandoned claims;

   (c) irrecoverable overpayments and advances;

   (d) loss of fixed fee receipt forms; and

   (e) dishonoured cheques (see paragraph 20.6.29 of FMM for relevant procedures).

13. The Accounting Officer should arrange for prior verification by the Director, Internal Control of cases of write off of irrecoverable arrears of revenue and clearance of Advance Accounts referred to him.

14. The accounting entries for write off of irrecoverable arrears of revenue and clearing of Advance Account in respect of paragraph 12 are set out in Annex I.

15. The Accountant-General must, in his Annual Statements, report on amounts written-off and clearance of Advance Account, as the case may be, by every Department in respect of each item listed at paragraph 12.
Financial Instructions – Losses, Arrears of Revenue, Write-Off and Advances

Loss of public money

16. Pursuant to paragraph 9, the Accounting Officer should ensure that the appropriate accounting entries are made by way of adjustment voucher to clear the Advance Account in respect of the irrecoverable amount. He should then notify the Financial Secretary and the Accountant-General thereof within one week of the clearance of the Advance Account, specifying the reference number of the adjustment voucher.

17. While the Accounting Officer is responsible for close monitoring of Advance Accounts under his control, the Accountant General will exercise an overall monitoring of all Advance Accounts with a view to drawing the attention of Accounting Officers and the Director Financial Operations on long outstanding balances in Advance Accounts Personal. The Director Financial Operations will ensure follow up by the Financial Operations Officers of Departments concerned.

Irrecoverable arrears of revenue

18. The Accounting Officer should ensure that a proper management information system is maintained to generate information on arrears of revenue on a quarterly basis. The system should be able to provide data on outstanding amounts by type of revenue, range, age, ratio of the amount recovered to total amount outstanding and on the ratio of the number of officers assigned to recovery and enforcement to the number of debtors, etc, in order to facilitate the preparation of work programmes for recovery of arrears and enforcement thereof. In this respect, the Accounting Officer should see to it that his officers dealing with revenue collection-

   (a) maintain a Revenue Register, electronically or otherwise, to ensure timely follow-up of receivables;

   (b) ensure timely follow-up of enforcement action;

   (c) provide explanations regarding any delay in initiating enforcement action;

   (d) keep and maintain a list of cases set for write off in the same format as Accounts Form 258(I) (Annex III) and include therein cases as and when they

occur; and

(e) prepare the Form of Write Off of Irrecoverable Arrears Of Revenue (Accounts Form 258(I)) and Return of Arrears of Revenue (Accounts Form 258 A-Annex IV) on a half-yearly basis.

19. The list referred to in paragraph 18 (d) should be submitted, on a monthly basis, to the Director Internal Control through the Accounting Officer. The Director Internal Control should-

   (a) after consultation with OIC Internal Control of the Department, arrange for the list to be examined; and

   (b) advise the Accounting Officer whether the arrears of revenue may be written-off.

20. The Accounting Officer has to personally approve write off on a half-yearly basis, after taking into consideration the comments of Director Internal Control. He should thereafter ensure that the Revenue Register is adjusted in respect of the amounts written off.

21. Accounts Form 258 (Annex II) together with a copy of Accounts Form 258(I) and the Return of Arrears of Revenue (Accounts Form 258 A) should be submitted to the Financial Secretary not later than 30 September and 31 March in the fiscal year. A copy of the Return of Arrears of Revenue should also be submitted by those dates to the Accountant-General.

22. To oversee the efficiency and effectiveness of the write off system and the clearance of Advance Accounts, MOF will keep and maintain a database of cases of write off and clearance of Advance Accounts approved by Supervising Officers/Accounting Officers, and the arrears of revenue.

23. The Accounting Officer should also, with the assistance of the DFO prepare, and keep a Manual of Instructions setting out the procedures for the timely follow-up, recovery and enforcement of outstanding amounts. The time lag between the occurrence of an arrear and the enforcement action to recover the arrear should be clearly spelt out.
24. In the event an amount previously written off is eventually recovered, such amount should be brought into account under the appropriate revenue item and recorded in the revenue register accordingly.

Abandoned Claims

25. Abandoned claims refer to claims in respect of defaults relating to, for example, overseas purchases, contract for goods, works and services, insurance claims etc which are abandoned on grounds that the claims become irrecoverable or because it is considered not to be economical to pursue recovery action.

26. The Accounting Officer should prefer a claim, in writing, on a supplier of goods, works or services as soon as a defect, deficiency or shortcoming is detected in respect thereto. No payment should be effected in respect of such defect, deficiency or shortcoming unless it is rectified.

27. If payment has been effected to the supplier before such defect, deficiency or shortcoming is detected, an Advance Account Claims for the value of the claim should be opened in the name of the supplier/insurer. The Accounting Officer should see to it that the case is followed up and the Advance Account is cleared as soon as possible.

28. If it is established that the defect, deficiency or shortcoming was due to the negligence of a public officer or has been condoned by the latter, the Accounting Officer should initiate appropriate action against such officer. In such cases, the Advance Account Claims should be transferred to an Advance Account Personal (Claims) opened in the name of the officer concerned.

29. The Advance Account Claim should be credited with any amount recovered or the value of any recovery made in kind.

30. The Accounting Officer should proceed with the legal recovery in case of non-settlement. Where after consultation with the SLO, it is established that a claim is to be abandoned, the Accounting Officer may proceed with the clearance of the Advance Account Claim, subject to the appropriate item of charge being authorised by MOF.
31. The Accounting Officer should ensure that the appropriate accounting entries be made by way of adjustment voucher to clear the Advance Account Claim. He should then notify the Financial Secretary and the Accountant-General within one week of the clearance of the Advance Account, specifying the reference number of the adjustment voucher.

Irrecoverable overpayments and Advances

32. Where an overpayment is effected, for example overpayment in respect of salaries and allowances, pensions and supply of goods, works or services, an Advance Account Personal should, subject to paragraph 33, be opened in the name of the officer authorising the payment.

33. Where it is established that another officer has caused the payment to be authorised, the Advance Account Personal should be opened in the name of such officer.

34. The officer in whose name the Advance Account Personal is opened should ensure recovery of the overpayment so that the Advance Account Personal is cleared.

35. Accounting officers should ensure that all Advance Accounts Personal are cleared as soon as possible. In case an officer is due to proceed on retirement, the Accounting Officer should notify the Accountant-General of any outstanding amount under the Advance Account Personal in the name of the officer.

Loss of fixed fee and non-fixed fee receipt forms

36. Fixed Fee Receipt Forms, e.g., parking coupons, as well as stamps represent in effect cash and should accordingly be properly taken on charge, secured and accounted for by a designated Financial Operations Officer of the Department.

37. Where there is a deficiency (through loss) in the stock of the Fixed Fee Receipt Forms, an Advance Account Personal should be opened in the name of the designated Financial Operations Officer.

38. Where it is established that the designated Financial Operations Officer is responsible for the deficiency, the officer should be required to make good such deficiency. Any cash recovered should be credited to the Advance Account Personal. In case the amount is irrecoverable, the Accounting Officer should proceed with the clearing of the Advance Account Personal, subject to the appropriate item of charge being authorised by MOF.

39. Non-Fixed Fee Receipt Forms, e.g., Accounts Book Form (ABF) 9A, Motor Vehicle License (MVL), etc. which do not represent cash, should nevertheless be properly taken on charge and secured by a designated officer of the Department.

40. Where there is a deficiency in the stock of the Non-Fixed Fee Receipt Forms, the Accounting Officer should immediately notify the Accountant-General, the Director of Audit, Director Internal Control and all the other Accounting Officers of the serial numbers of the missing Forms. The Accounting Officer should cause an enquiry to be effected to establish if there has been any irregularity.

41. If the Non-Fixed Fee Receipt Forms cannot be retraced, the records in the Stock Register should be adjusted accordingly.

Dishonoured Cheques

42. The Chief Cashier or the Cashier, where there is no Chief Cashier, hereinafter referred to as “Cashier”, is responsible for the recovery of money from debtors in respect of dishonoured cheques.

43. Dishonoured cheques include cheques returned by bank:-

   (a) which are marked by the bank “Refer to Drawer”, “Not arranged for”, “Insufficient Fund”, “Present Again”, “Account Closed” or “Effects Not Cleared”;

   (b) where signature is missing;

   (c) where amounts in words and figures differ;

   (d) where alterations do not bear the full signatures of the drawers; or

   (e) which are stale or post dated or for any other reasons given by the bank.
44. The Accounting Officer should ensure that the Cashier keeps and maintains a register, electronic or otherwise, of dishonoured cheques to record the following information:

(a) date cheque received, amount, cheque number and receipt number with date;
(b) name and contact details of the drawer;
(c) date returned by bank and reason for cheque being dishonoured;
(d) date drawer contacted;
(e) date cleared by drawer and receipt number with date;
(f) date referred to Police for recovery; and
(g) any other relevant information.

45. The Finance Officer-in-Charge should regularly check the register referred to in paragraph 44 to ensure that appropriate follow-up action is taken to recover money from the debtors concerned.

46. Accounting Officers should on a monthly basis submit to the Accountant-General a return, through TAS or otherwise, of all cheques dishonoured during the month for reasons referred to in Paragraph 43 (a), giving details mentioned at Paragraph 44.

47. The Accountant-General shall maintain a central database for dishonoured cheques for reasons referred to in Paragraph 43 (a) and regularly alert Accounting Officers on regular defaulters as well as debtors who have failed to clear the dishonoured cheques. The Accountant-General should notify in writing the defaulters/debtors that henceforth only cash or office cheque will be accepted from them until further notice. The Accounting Officer should accordingly see to it that only cash or office cheque is accepted from such defaulters/debtors.

48. In case any cheque received is dishonoured, an Advance Account should be opened in the name of the Department concerned for the amount involved. The Advance Account should be labelled “Advance Account Dishonoured Cheques-Cashier-Name of Department”.

The Accounting Officer is responsible to follow up repayment of the advance by the date specified in the Warrant.

50. Where the Accounting Officer can no longer recover the balance outstanding of any advance referred to at paragraph 49 (a), he should notify the Accountant-General in writing without delay with all the particulars in respect of the debtor. The Accountant-General should forthwith proceed with legal recovery. Where it is established that such advance or any part thereof is irrecoverable, the Accountant-General should proceed to clear the Advance Account in respect of the irrecoverable amount, subject to the appropriate item of charge being authorised by MOF.

51. In respect of advances referred to at paragraph 49 (b), the Accounting Officer should see to it that an appropriate system is in place at the level of the public body for the monthly recovery of advances made to its employees and for dealing promptly with defaults in respect thereof. The Accounting Officer should also ensure that monthly repayments of amounts collected by public bodies are duly effected. Where it is established that any advance made to an employee of a public body is irrecoverable, the Accounting Officer should proceed to clear the Advance Account in respect of the irrecoverable amount, subject to the appropriate item of charge being authorised by MOF.

52. In respect of advances referred to at paragraph 49 (c), the MOF is the only body authorised to deal with cases where the public body concerned is unable to repay any advance.
